The Santa Lucia Highlands is known for ripeness and power, yet this is a delicate, floral-enhanced bottling.

Aromas of rich strawberry are cut by wet slate, gravel and rose petals, while the fresh, flavorful palate combines hibiscus cream, raspberry sorbet and white pepper.

Very svelte and well-structured, with loads of rich minerality to the dried cherry, berry and Asian spice flavors.

Intense underbrush notes midpalate lead to cedar and sandalwood accents on the finish.

Drink now through 2024.
